PIANO FORTE TUNING AND REGULATING.

THE SUBSCRIBER, having engaged the services of Mr. E. T. HURLBUT, a competent and experienced tuner, is now prepared to fill orders with which he may be favored. The following testimonial to Mr. Hurlbut's capability is from the director of the celebrated Germania Musical Society

Milwaukee, March 27, 1855. a99

It is with much pleasure that I can recommend Mr. E. T. Hurlbut as a Piano Forte Tuner and regulator. To say that he is a thorough tuner, would not be doing him justice, for I can without hesitation say that he is capable of tuning a Piano as near to perfection as it is possible for a Piano to be tuned; but the greatest recommendation for him is the unusual length of time which his Pianos remain in tune. I have never, either in Europe or America, seen a man whom I would so cheerfully and with so much confidence employ to tune or regulate a Piano Forte as Mr. Hurlbut, and as cheerfully recommend him to all who want Pianos tuned.

VOLUME XI. MILWAUKEE DAILY SENTINEL, FRIDAY MORNING, MARCH 14, 1856. NEW SERIES.

THE DAILY SENTINEL.

MILWAUKEE:

Friday Morning, March 14, 1856.

NEWS OF THE MORNING.

We have later dates from California and Oregon, this morning, with encouraging news from both. From the same quarter we hear of a terrible earthquake in Japan, which destroyed 10,700 houses and 3000 lives. Gen. Walker and his Filibusters continue to play "fantastic tricks" in Central America.

New Hampshire, according to last report, has pronounced against Pierce and Nebraska. This is an ugly blow for the President, on the eve of the Cincinnati Convention; and will probably destroy his chance of a re-nomination.

The snow embargo has been partially removed from the New York Railroads, but still prevails along the Erie Lake Shore lines. It has completely stopped the mails for seven or eight days.

The trial of Johan Feiner for the murder of H. C. Adams, in this city, resulted yesterday in the discharge of the jury, they being unable to agree in a verdict.

Nothing of interest was done in either branch of the Legislature yesterday, all attention being turned towards the Supreme Court.

The Supreme Court have not yet announced their decision in the contested Governorship, but are expected to do so to-day. It will be seen that the German Turn Verein, at Madison, indignantly deny the rumor that they were going to assist the Usurper BARSTOW, in his proposed appeal to Force against Law.

"EXPRESSIVE SILENCE."—Not a single paper in this city, English or German, has as yet uttered the first syllable in defence, or palliation of Mr. BARSTOW's threatened determination to resist the Supreme Court and set at defiance their decrees! The Press and People of Milwaukee sustain the Court and the Law.

NO NEW YORK MAILS FOR NINE DAYS.—Our latest papers from New York are of the 29th of February. We have had no N. Y. mails for nine days. Our Telegraphic despatches are [illegible] reason why. The roads there are [illegible] Pennsylvania are snowed [illegible] through New York and

THE TRIAL [illegible] of John C[illegible] OF FEINER.—The Jury in the case of John Feiner, indicted for the murder of H. C. ADAMS, after being out some 22 hours, came into Court yesterday and stated that it was impossible for them to agree. They were thereupon discharged by the Judge. It is said that they stood 6 for a verdict of Murder, and 6 for Manslaughter. As the case must speedily come up for trial again, we refrain, for the present, from any comment upon the unlooked-for result.

The Conspirators' Meeting at Young's Hall.

The Morning News of yesterday publishes an account, abridged from the Wisconsin, of the meeting at Young's Hall, Monday evening, to sustain the usurper BARSTOW in his avowed purpose to resist the Supreme Court, override the law and defy the People. We copy what the Wisconsin reporter says about the vote on the resolutions, as well as the hearsay testimony of the News on the same point

The question being upon the adoption of the resolutions—it was put and decided by the chair, as carried in the affirmative.

There was, however, an unmistakable and emphatic "no" went up, which evidently preceded more from power of lungs than a majority of the meeting. A division of the house was called for, but the Chair decided that on account of the hubbub, it would not be safe to effect a division, and immediately declared the meeting adjourned.—Wisconsin Report.

When the question on the adoption of the resolutions was put by the president, we are informed that the great body of the meeting occupying the tiers of seats in front of the area responded in the affirmative, in the ordinary tone of voice, and a pretty loud negative vote was given from the portion of the hall farthest from the chair. As a matter of course, the chair declared the vote for the affirmative. A division was called. At this juncture, we are informed, and requested to state, that the reporter of the Sentinel, sitting near the chair, advised him that it would be unsafe to divide the meeting, giving the chair to understand that the condition of the hall was such as to render such a proceeding dangerous. The chair therefore declined to divide the meeting, and pronounced it adjourned.—News Editorial.

We do not wonder that the Barstowites should endeavor, by every means in their power, to explain away the uncomfortable and unmistakable fact, that the resolutions sustaining the Usurper were voted down by the meeting. The public, however, will not fail to remark, that not a single newspaper in this city, of any political party, has been willing to forfeit its character for truth and fair play by pretending that the resolutions were adopted. The News testifies only upon "information." The Wisconsin maintains an "expressive silence." And the reporters all agree upon "the unmistakeable and emphatic No."

What we stated in the Sentinel on Tuesday morning, touching the rejection of these resolutions, was not upon "information" from reporters, or others, but upon our own responsibility as an eye and ear-witness of the facts; and, were it necessary, we could substantiate the exact truth of that statement by the testimony of scores of respectable citizens and well-known democrats. When the question was put, the ayes did indeed come from the front part of the Hall, but they were faint and few. The negative, on the other hand, called out as "unmistakable and emphatic" response, from all parts of the meeting (though mainly from those in the rear and the gallery) which in number, as well as in "power of lungs", made the affirmative appear slim enough. So marked was the contrast, that the Chairman was fairly taken aback, and it was not till after a moment's hesitation that he mastered the assurance to say, "the ayes seem to have it." Hereupon a derisive laugh echoed through the Hall and the meeting clamored for a "division." This the chair declined ordering, for the reason stated; pronounced the resolutions carried and the meeting adjourned. Then came three rousing cheers for BARSTOW and the Supreme Court, but no answering shout for BARSTOW. The spirit of the leaders was broken; the meeting wore an ominous aspect; the masses refused to sustain the usurper and set the Courts and the law at defiance. So the conspirators quietly and meekly went out, with the Gas.

The News concludes its remarks upon the meeting with this suggestive paragraph:

> While we have deemed it without the true province of journalism to comment upon the proceedings in the contested election case, since its commencement, and have refrained in this, as we would in any other case depending for adjudication and for fair and impartial trial, from the expression of our opinions, we have thought it due to the meeting to publish their proceedings and the foregoing remarks.

This implied rebuke to the conspirators who got up the Young's Hall meeting, in the vain hope of bullying the Supreme Court, is well-deserved and well-administered. Small comfort have they got from any of the Milwaukee Press. They must look to the personed and purchased organs of the usurper, for "aid and countenance" in their treasonable designs.

FIRE AT DODGEVILLE.—We learn from the Mineral Point Tribune that on the 5th instant, a fire broke out in Dodgeville, and before it was checked destroyed four frame and one brick building. The Tribune says:

> Mr. Sowden saved the contents of his house and grocery except what was in the cellar and garret; Loss $50. Mr. McCracken saved all his merchandize except the heavy goods in the cellar; Loss $3000. Dr. Goodhal saved most of his stock; Loss $150. Mr. Parish saved all his stock; Loss 250. Hope & Liddicoat; Loss $650. No insurance on anything.

FROM MADISON.

Editorial Correspondence of the Sentinel.

MADISON, March 12, 1856.

You will have learned ere this reaches you, by telegraph, of the proceedings in Supreme Court, if any. The Court is taking its own time to decide, and deliver its deliberate judgment in the important case before it. Whether that judgment will be a judgment of ouster by default, and declaring Mr. Bashford entitled to the office, or whether it will be a judgment of some nature and form, requiring the Relator to produce his proofs of title, it will be deliberately made and pronounced, and executed and obeyed. The brawling of the fanatics who assume to pronounce a law for Mr. Barstow above all the decisions of the Courts of the State, will doubtless have as little effect upon the Court, as it has upon the people. So far as I am able to judge, the Relator would seem to be entitled to the present judgment of the Court in his favor; but whether before the Court or the great mass of the people, the Relator's proofs are ready, or can be arranged speedily, so that every man who can read will see the justice of his case.

The people of the State ought everywhere to speak out and give their opinion of the bold, bad men, who are defying the Court in advance, and striving to plunge the State into civil war—for what end and for whom?

In Senate this morning, the Committee to visit the State Prison reported the results of their investigation, which are quite favorable to the discipline and general condition of the Prison. The Committee recommend a House of Refuge for juvenile delinquents. They report that the main building of the prison is up to the sills of the 1st story, and that about $21,000 will finish it. I don't exactly see how this can be, even though the "architect," Mr Rheinhardt, says so; since the South Wing, just completed, has cost nearly or quite $100,000.

The resolution to adjourn on the [illegible] first Wednesday of September [illegible] said was, on the motion of [illegible]24th to the introduced it, postp[illegible]ame up in order. One of the [illegible] Mr. Smith who had this morn[illegible]ned for one week.

[illegible]ppropriation bills in the Senate form[illegible]ing was to pay Mathias Martin for performing the duties of night watch about the Capitol. Martin seems to be both ubiquitous and sleepless. His bills for both day and night service are wonderful, and like Jimmy Halpin's, always pass.

The Assembly spent almost all the morning on a bill dividing Waukesha village into two wards, by the Fox River, I believe. I have not been able to see why this bill should have excited so much feeling as it has. One would really have thought, by the storm in the Assembly, that some matter of intense importance to the State was on the tapis. I noticed that a charge brought against Mr. Hawley, of Waukesha, that he had improperly retained the bill in his hands, was very clearly disproved by that gentleman.

The Assembly disposed of the bill restoring Capital Punishment, by indefinitely postponing it, by a vote of 37 to 35. Of course it is too late to argue the subject, but it is not too late to regret the fate of the bill. I believe now, as heretofore, that the people, by a vast majority of intelligence and thought, required the restoration of the death penalty. Probably a few more murders and lynchings may bring legislators to just action upon the subject.

The vote on indefinitely postponing the bill was as follows: Ayes—Bostedo, Briggs, I. Brown, J. T. Brown, Butterfield, Cameron, Chapin, Chappel, Cheves, Chipman, Colladay, Crannond, Davis, Drake, Evans, Flood, H. H. Gray, Greulich, Head, Huntington, H. Johnson, E. Knowlton, J. H. Knowlton, Landersdale, Murray, Newell, Noon, Noyes, Palmer, Parker, Potter, Seymour, Stark, H. S. Thomas, Townsend, Wippeman, Wood—37.

Noes—Alden, Anunson, Barney, Beger, Bird, Brazelton, Burchard, Catlin, Childs, Cram, Crawford, Ehinger, Farr, Fletcher, Hahn, Hawkins, Hawley, James, Lavis, McCormick, Mills, Mitchell, Morrison, Murphy, Reed, Sell, Smith, Thompson, Tobin, Vogenitz, Wagner, Walker, Weaver, Woodman, Hull —36.

The Lunatic Asylum bill was tabled by a vote of 37 to 33. I think that it was done, as a piece of policy, to save the bill from being killed outright. Mr. Murphy moved to insert as Commissioners the names of Messrs. Bugh, Sanborn and Vittum, as having had experience in the matter!

Our Public Halls.

A correspondent of the Morning News, in yesterday's issue, thus calls attention to a patent defect in the Public Halls of this city:

Messrs. Editors:—Would it not be well to call the attention of our common council to the mode of construction of our concert halls and other large rooms in which numerous audiences often assemble. The means of egress are too few in most public halls. Suppose a fire or fire should arise during a concert, the hall having only one mode of egress, and think of the consequence! The one doorway, or passage, would, at once, be jammed, and whether the fire was in the building containing the audience or in a building adjoining, the panic would be fearful. All buildings intended for lectures, public exhibitions, &c., should be so constructed that the place could be freed, if necessary, in five minutes. Doors ought always to open outwards. In Europe this is invariably the plan. I call your attention to this matter as many nervous people have lately spoken of it.

We think the suggestion, that our Common Council should take action in the premises, timely and wise. Our public halls are deficient in three important requisities, strength, ventilation and facility of ingress and egress. Take Young's Hall, for instance; which, from its size and central location, is the one usually occupied for Concerts, Lectures, Balls and Public Meetings. It is miserably provided, in case of an alarm of any kind, with facilities for the rapid egress of the audience. There is but one doorway, and that not a very wide one, which would be speedily choked up by a panic-stricken crowd. This Hall, too, is deficient in the means of ventilation, and when a large audience gather there, the atmosphere very soon becomes oppressive and unwholesome. It is proper to add, what has been the town talk for some days past, that the crack in the South wall of the building is thought, by many, to have rendered the Hall itself unsafe.

As to this last point we are assured upon pretty good authority that the apprehension is wholly unfounded. We suggest however, that for the satisfaction of the public it would be well to have two or three of our most experienced Architects and Builders examine the Hall thoroughly and publish their conclusions. Assuming it to be otherwise safe, let us advise the proprietor, or lessees, to put up, on the East side of the building, along the Alley, a strong balcony, communicating with the Hall, by means of the numerous windows on that side, and with flights of steps, at either end, leading to the ground. Then, in case of fire, or any other alarm, the East windows might be instantly thrown open, and a dozen modes of egress provided where only one now exists. With this safe-guard and an improvement in the mode of ventilation, Young's Hall will continue to answer very well for Concerts, Lectures, Balls, &c., until—we can get a better.

What we have said above, selecting this one Hall as the illustration, will apply, with more or less force, to all the Public Halls yet built in our City. The Common Council have an Officer (Mr. MICHAEL PAGE) whose special business it is to supervise buildings in progress of erection and see that they conform to the Ordinance regulating the thickness of walls, size of joists, &c. We take leave to suggest that he be authorized to make a thorough inspection of all the Public Halls in our city, and report in full to the Council, as to their strength, modes of ventilation and means of egress, and that the Council, thus having before them reliable and official information on the subject, adopt such action in the premises as the public safety demands.

MADISON WATER-CURE.—The Madison Patriot states that Dr. GROSS has retired from the charge of the Water-Cure on Lake Monona, having leased the "Lake View House," five miles North of Chicago, on the Lake Shore road.

The Church of Santa Sophia—The Cistern with 1001 Columns—The Hippodrome—The Seven Towers—The Khans—The Bazaars—The City Gates—The Castle of the Ottoman Sultans—Imitation of Johnny Bull—The Arabahs—Turkish Ladies.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Nov. 23d, 1855.

The first place the traveller visits after arriving at Constantinople is the Church of Santa Sophia, which, taking everything into consideration, is perhaps the most interesting one in the world, not even excepting St. Peters Church at Rome. But while I was happily disappointed in the magnitude and splendor of the latter, I was equally disappointed in the former, it not meeting my expectations. This may be in part owing to that want of symmetrical proportion and beauty of architecture that characterizes the great conception of Michael Angelo; for Santa Sophia has been built by piece meal almost, through many centuries, under different Emperors and Monarchs, particularly the extreme part including the minarets, when the style of building differed materially from that of the middle ages, and at more modern periods.

I shall only allude to some of its main features, for it would occupy a volume, to give a description in detail. Its main interest to me, after seeing it a few times, consisted in its historic associations alone, added to the wealth of the marbles and other materials with which it is enriched. Neither externally or internally, has it [illegible]ed.—The form of a church, as seen eit[illegible]ny thing of America. At a distance it [illegible]ner in Europe or east pile of buildings [illegible] would be taken for a one belfry [illegible]clustered together, covered with domes, from [illegible] near the centre of which rises a lofty [illegible] while at each of the four corners, is a minaret. These, like all others, are small tapering spires, generally circular or fluted, which rise to a great height. At intervals there are projections surrounded by an iron railing, like those seen on the tops of monuments, from which the muezzins, who are inferior officers of the mosques, summon the faithful to prayer. The top then tapers off gradually to a point, which is surmounted by the crescent. This portion is generally covered with tin or some other metal that reflects the rays of the sun. The church has several courts and vestibules surrounding it on different sides in which are several fountains, large cisterns and subterranean water vaults.—The interior is nearly circular, surrounded with colonnades above and below and lighted with soft and mellow light from different styles of windows of painted glass from the sides, the central portions above, and the domes. This glass is the most perfect and beautiful that I have seen in ancient or modern churches.

This celebrated church was commenced A. D. 325, being the twentieth year of the reign of Constantine, and was dedicated to the Eternal Wisdom, that is to the Second Divine Person associated by Solomon himself with Jehovah in the creation of the world, as its Greek name imports. It was then known as the temple of wisdom.—Thirteen years after its completion it was enlarged by Constantius, the son of the illustrious founder. In A. D 404, during the reign of Arcadius, it was entirely consumed, having been set on fire by a follower of St. John Chrysostom, one of the contending parties into which the Christian Church was then divided. Theodosius II. again rebuilt it in A. D. 415, and again in A. D. 532 it was burnt and again rebuilt in A. D. 538 by Justinian on a far greater scale, and in greater splendor.

But its calamities did not stop here. Twenty years afterwards, from the effect of an earthquake, the holy table, the tabernacle and the elevated terrace were destroyed by the falling in of the east half of the great dome. Again Justinian repaired this accident, and made it more durable and even more beautiful than before.—For the last time was its completion celebrated, on Christmas eve, A. D. 538, on which occasion it is recorded in history that the Emperor drove with four horses taking himself the sacred vessels to the church, and caused to be slaughtered, 1000 oxen, 1000 sheep, 600 deer, 1000 pigs, 10,000 fowls; and for three hours 30,000 measures of corn, and 300 cwt. of gold were distributed to the poor. In company with the patriarch Eutychius he entered the church, and from the portals he ran alone to the front of the great altar, and there with out-stretched arms exclaimed in a loud voice: "God be praised, who hath esteemed me worthy to complete such a work. Solomon! I have surpassed thee."

Some idea may be had of its immense cost as well as the magnificence of the church itself by its materials. Like the church of St. Mark at Venice its most costly and beautiful marbles are from the spoils of other churches. In it are eight porphyry columns taken from the Roman Temple of the Sun, of Aurelian. These were however a present to Justinian from Marina, a Roman Patrician, which she had formerly received as a part of her dowry. On the north and South sides are four pillars of the most chaste and rich green granite, taken from the Temple of Diana at Ephesus. These support the gallery of the womens choir. From the ruins of Persepolis were brought forty-two columns, twenty-four of Egyptian granite, eight of Serpentine or green marble and eight of porphyry. These support the weight of the galleries, and above there are sixty more marble columns of almost every variety of color and texture.

The body of the church is covered with rich mattrasses and carpets. The space above is almost filled with splendid chandiliers. On the great festival of the Bairam it is said that the illumination is grand and imposing. At this time the Sultan attends night service in person and when he retires he is accompanied by a procession bearing innumerable torches and lanterns giving many colored lights, and who accompany him to the seraglio. Here he is presented with a pure virgin. There are ever one hundred officials and seventy connected with this single church. Its annual income is said to be two millions of piasters. The cross from the cupola was removed by the Mohammedans when they came into power, and the crescent substituted.—It is said that crescent is 150 feet in diameter and to have cost Sultan Murad III, 30,000 ducats in the gilding alone. It is seen from the summit of Bithynian Olympus, and also one hundred miles at sea, glittering with the rays of the sun.

Not far from this church is the cistern of Constantine, called binderik, or the thousand and one pillars. Before I was aware of the nature of it, we approached a piece of ground that had the appearance of having been burnt over, and my guide called my attention to some holes in the ground and wanted me to listen. Thinking that he was jesting I did so, when I heard a strange and singular confusion of sounds which I never would have supposed to have been produced by human voices. After going a little further we suddenly came to an opening in the earth, and after descending some three or four pairs of stairs found ourselves in a vast hall filled with tall marble columns not more than from ten to fifteen feet apart. Here were people at work twisting silk by the light of lamps. I went around over considerable space, but not being very well lighted I could not distinctly see the area, but it could not fall far short of an acre. What was this subterranean palace for, is a question about which antiquarians and writers disagree. There a number of others in the older part of the city which are open and probably many others unknown and possibly never may be. Perhaps the records connected with the Oriental Order of 1001 at Madison may throw light back this way on the subject.

In the hippodrome built by the Roman Emperor Severus are the remains of some columns and statuary, but so old are they that their history is entirely lost. This place was once adorned with works of art, dedicated to the gods, and other objects of pagan worship. But during rebellions and different bombardments of the city they have been mostly destroyed and carried away. They suffered the most at the time of the capture of the city by the Crusaders under Baldwin and Dandolo.

The Seven Towers, called yedi koula, in the South-west corner of the city where the walls intersect the Sea of Marmora, is one too of great historical interest. This was once an imperial castle having seven towers, each two hundred feet high. This mass of buildings is now in a dilapidated condition with only four of the great towers entire, and is rarely used at the present day. This fortress was constructed in the early era of the city and was as long ago as the Emperor Theodosius, greatly strengthened and improved. At one time it was the chief garrison of the Janissaries and became a States prison. There is a small court house, called the place of head where human heads were piled until they reached the high city walls.

LAW vs. ANARCHY.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS

We copy below articles from several Journals, of different politics of this State, in reference [illegible]eral prominent attempts of our Usurp[illegible] views, in and out the Law, the Co[illegible] to the extraordinary no command[illegible]ing Governor, to defy alike THE [illegible]urt, and the People. They need

GUBERNATORIAL CONTEST!

Barstow Seeks the Court.

Our citizens were somewhat startled on Saturday last by the telegraphic announcement from Madison that Barstow's counsel had, by his direction, announced to the Court that he would not further contest the suit brought against him, and would oppose its execution by all the powers of his office. He also sent a message to the Assembly urging them to impeach the Judges. This message was referred to a select committee of five known friends of Barstow, they have not yet made their report. A secret caucus of Assemblymen known to be in favor of sustaining Barstow's usurpation, was held in the Executive Chamber on Friday afternoon, to decide upon the course they would pursue, and from the message sent in the next day, there is every reason to believe that those present agreed to sustain him in his revolutionary proceedings. The Court will doubtless proceed with the suit, and render a verdict upon its merits. The people will sustain that verdict, peaceably if they can—forcibly if they must.—Racine Advocate.

GOVERNOR'S MESSAGE.—We present this document, which was sent in to the Legislature on Saturday, commending it to the attention of the reader. It will be seen that the Court now calls upon the Legislature to take some action in the matter, relative to the action of the Supreme Court. We do not know how or that it can or can take that will have any importance, bearing upon the case. What further proceedings will be had in the Supreme Court remains to be seen, but we presume its previous decisions will encourage the counsel of Bashford to continue the suit, in which event we think it probable that the Supreme Court will be puzzled to know how to enforce its decision, if it finally concludes to oust Barstow and put in Bashford.—Mineral Pt Democrat.

The Governor-Usurper Resists the Supreme Court.

In another place we give, in a condensed form, Mr. Barstow's refusal to regard the decision of the Supreme Court, and his threat to "repel with all the force vested in this department, any infringement upon the office he holds."

We have before heard intimations that such would be Mr. Barstow's course, before he would submit to an investigation of the frauds by which he holds his office, but we were not prepared to believe that he would take so foolish a course—If he is legally elected Governor, as he says he believes he is, why fear investigation? We're he an honest man, he would court, rather than dodge such investigation. He evidently supposes the Supreme Court troubled with "spinal weakness," and takes this course to scare the Court. We mistake, however, the character of the gentlemen composing that body, if they flinch from a discharge of their duty in consequence of any of the threats of Mr. Barstow, his counsel, or his tools in the Legislature.—Mineral Point Tribune.

From the Madison Journal.

Sancho Panza's Opinion upon Independent Executives.

Sancho Panza was a Governor—and a somewhat renowned Governor. The Argus is engaged in republishing some of the sage counsels uttered by Barstow's "eminent counsel" in support of their theory of the divinity that doth hedge a Governor. Singularly enough they have overlooked the following authority, which is far more pointed, clear, and conclusive than any to which they have referred

"Let no one meddle with the Governor or his deputy, or he will some off worst, like him who claps his finger between two eye-teeth, and though they were not eye-teeth, 'tis enough if they be but teeth. TO WHAT A GOVERNOR SAYS THERE IS NO REPLYING, ANY MORE THAN TO 'GET OUT OF MY HOUSE, WHAT BUSINESS HAVE YOU WITH MY WIFE?'"—with Don Quixote.

SUPPLEMENTAL RETURNS.—Tom Reynolds says that although the canvass of the votes in the second ward gives his opponent one majority, he expects a supplement will come in, within a day or two which will reverse this result. He had some wood-choppers over beyond McBride's Point, and understands they polled several votes in a very dilapidated wool hat. All but one were for Reynolds. As soon as individuals can be found to swear that the votes were properly cast, they will be brought in. Shall voters of McBride's Point be disfranchised by reason of a little informality? Never!—Madison Journal.

QUITE A "SUPPLEMENTARY" FLUTTERING.—At 10 o'clock on Monday evening, when every body supposed that Fairchild was elected,—all at once a fearful cry was raised that Atwood would come out ahead. Impossible! cried all hands—"I guess it's so, squealed a little urchin, "for I send Supplement Wood going off towards the Marsh, and I know'd he was after "supplements."—Madison Patriot.

THE GREAT VICTORY.—Col. Fairchild, is elected Mayor by 305 maj. Johnson J. Starks, is elected City Treasurer, by 278 maj. These gentlemen ran against two popular opponents, who were carried down by the weight of Barstowism.

The Board of Aldermen will consist of ten anti-Barstow men to two Barstowites—to wit AS Wood, and J. N. Jones.

The choice of the people for Justice of the Peace prevailed in three out of four Wards—in the 2d Ward J. W. Hunt, Barstowite, beat Thos. Reynolds one vote. The choice of the people for Assessors and Constables, prevailed in all the wards.

A. B. Braley, Esq., a very popular man, and not generally considered as sold bodily to Barstow, though leaning that way, beat Wm. Welch, Esq., for Police Justice, and Fred Mohr, an intelligent and well educated German, and withall a fine, good hearted fellow, beat Mr. N. G. Bendict for Marshal. There were four or five candidates in the field, which cut up Mr. B.'s strength.—Madison Patriot (Dem.)

LA CROSSE ITEMS.—The number of arrivals in town for the week ending on Wednesday evening last, as reported by the proprietors of the different hotels, is as follows: Mississippi House, 325; New England House, 300; Western Hotel, 50; American House, 25; La Crosse House 50; Washington House 10

LEVY'S NEW HOTEL is now going up rapidly. It is to be 80 by 80 feet on the ground, four stories high, will have about one hundred rooms and be opened in May.—Democrat.

There is no use in us making the attempt to enumerate the buildings to be put up here another season. Preparations are being made in every part of the town for a house or shop of some kind, and every carpenter and builder is contracting jobs to be done early in the spring.

Rome, the town on the other side of the river at the steamboat landing, has taken a new start lately. A good many lots have been sold at fair prices and a number of buildings are to go up there in the spring.—Ind. Rep. 20th.

FIRST JUDICIAL CIRCUIT.—The following election notice appears in the Madison Argus of Wednesday:

SECRETARY'S OFFICE,
MADISON, March 12, 1856.

Notice is hereby given that an election will be held on the first Tuesday, being the first day of April next, in the several towns and Wards in the counties of Green, Kenosha, Racine, Rock and Walworth, comprising the first Judicial Circuit, in the State of Wisconsin, for the election of a Judge of the Circuit Court of said state, to fill the remainder of the term made vacant by the resignation of James R. Doolittle. Such election to be conducted, the votes canvassed and returns made in accordance with chapter 58, of the General Laws of 1854, entitled "An Act concerning the election of Judges," approved March 22, 1854. DAVID W. JONES,
Secretary of State.

COUNTY TREASURER.—The Oshkosh Courier says that the Supervisors of Winnebago County have elected BARNA HASKELL as County Treasurer, to fill the vacancy occasioned by the death of JONATHAN DAUGHERTY.

The Steamboat Collision—Fifteen Lives Lost—Exposure and Suffering of the Passengers—The Fugitives on Board.

The collision of the steamer Henry Lewis with the steamer E Howard, was most disastrous. It occurred on Saturday morning under a bright starlight sky.

At the moment of the collision [illegible] scene of terror and excitement [illegible] the wildest the passengers and crew of the [illegible]osted upon conceived of or experience[illegible]ll-fated boat ever were [illegible] waters. The passengers [illegible]d on the Western berths but a moment [illegible] were all asleep in their were hurried forth [illegible]before, and at the instant and the hissing [illegible] amid the crashing of timbers from the [illegible] of steam, the hurrying to and ing with [illegible]arm of fire, and the cries of drowning [illegible]ons, to find themselves surrounded by death [illegible] in its most hideous forms.

The shock of the collision [illegible] around, with her bow [illegible] threw the boat in broken [illegible]ion, or rather [illegible]am, and the entire cabin weight of freight [illegible]ver crushed in by the great [illegible] line it careened [illegible] upon the roof, and at the same one side be[illegible] over, a portion of the roof on the passengers [illegible]ing entirely under water. The passengers, including a number of ladies and children, escaped in their night clothes, and took refuge on the hurricane deck, exposed to all the inclemency of the weather. Many of them were severely bruised by the boxes of glassware and other articles that fell upon them from the roof. The boat also caught fire, and amid the smoke, falling ruins, and the rushing waters their chances of escape seemed hopeless indeed. The boat luckily settled to the bottom of the river, leaving the hurricane-roof above water, and there the survivors congregated to await assistance.

The cries of sufferers and the agony of passengers shut up in state-rooms were heart-rending. Butts, U. S. Marshal, having in charge Gaines' negroes, shouted lustily for help. Four of these negroes escaped—the last child of the slave mother was drowned, she rejoicing over its death. Four cabin passengers perished—the rest, thirty four in number, were rescued. Quite a number had to be cut out of their state-rooms; a number escaped on planks boxes and whatever they could get hold of; a number swam ashore. Most of the passengers were in night dresses. As the burricane deck floated on, the ladies, with naked, bleeding feet, calmly awaited their deliverance or the death [illegible] of life's pat down at fifteen—passengers believe that some twenty-four perished.—Chicago Tribune.

THE DEMOCRATIC AND K. N. ALLIES.—The Wisconsin of last evening, in a sharp reply to the Post, says this testifies to the coalition between the Know-Nothings and Locos Democrats, in the contest for Speaker

Mr. H. Fuller was the K. N. candidate, selected in their caucus. He was abandoned by all but four of his K. N. supporters, who formed a coalition with the Administration forces on Asker, whom Gov Elis, of the Plaindealer, doubtless prefers because he owns thirteen hundred darkies

Mr. Aiken says that the Southern constitution of the Democratic party, which practically overturns popular sovereignty, for he denies that Kansas has the right or the power to prohibit slavery in that Territory, so long as it continues a territory, and holds that the Constitution of the United States per se extends slavery over Kansas. The editor of the Post should understand that a man with such principles could not be the choice of a free man, though it might be that of a political serf

THE MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE DAILY SENTINEL,
MILWAUKEE, March 14, 1856.

Received by Mil. & Miss. R. R.—1650 bus wheat, 173 do corn, 337 do barley, 936 do oats, 59 bbls, 4 sacks flour, 24 kegs, 145 hides, 1 box eggs.

By Mil. & Wat. R. R.—562 bus wheat, 12 bbls flour, lot hides.

By La Crosse & Mil. R. R.—4657 bus wheat, 145 bbls, 78 sacks flour, 72 hides, 24 tons pig iron, 8759 lbs sundries.

By Mil. & Horicon R. R.—3269 bus wheat, 62 bbls flour, 1083 lbs hides, 16.0 do sundries.

Rather better receipts, yesterday. Wheat market flat and prices fell off, under the influence of the last foreign news. Some good lots of club sold to mill for 1,50, but the average price was not over 1,48. An offer of 1000 bus at 1,47 was not taken. No changes in other grain.

Barley is active at 1,00@1,50. Oats dull at 32@33, and Corn quiet at 45@52. Pork, for retail, sells at $6,00@6,25, and some choice heavy hogs, yesterday, brought $6,50

Weather yesterday mild, with a moderate thaw.

Chicago Market.

Thursday Evening, March 13, 1856.

We note no change in Flour since our last; only millers are now in market for Grain.

Wheat prices have steadily advanced since our last review—going from 1,10 to 1,20, and closing with a good demand for parcels to mill. A choice lot of red winter changed hands to-day at 1,46. Holders are firm and sanguine that present stock will find buyers at present figures before arrivals from the interior. Corn is also a decided firmer sales being made to-day at 40c @ 40 lbs. In other grain there is no marked change, and little demand except for small lots.

Dressed Hogs are also advanced, last week we gave quotations as low as $4,50—to-day $5,75 is the buying price. The stock here is small—Tribune.

This valuable statistical work, for all who desire to refer to the past history of our State, its geographical divisions, government, elections, valuation of property, population, &c., is now ready for delivery. We annex the following commendatory notices of the pamphlet, made in advance of its publication, expressing opinions which we think will be fully realized in its pages:

From the Secretary of State's Report, page 47.

"A volume of statistics will shortly be issued from the press, prepared by that gentleman, (Mr. Hunt,) which, I doubt not, will prove to be a valuable work for information and reference."

From the Proceedings of the State Historical Society for February.

Resolved, That we highly approve the scope and object contemplated by the Wisconsin Annual Register, a valuable compilation of statistics of our State, now in press by Rufus King & Co., and earnestly commend it to the citizens and business men of Wisconsin, as worthy of that liberal patronage which may secure its permanent publication.

The edition of this valuable statistical work, which has been compiled with great care from the official records, for the most part by JOHN WARREN HUNT, Assistant Secretary of State, being but 5,000, persons who desire to possess it will do well to make early application to the publishers.

Terms—Single copies 50 cts, 30 copies for $10,00; 50 copies for $15,00.

JUDGE RUSSELL PRESIDING

Trial of Johan Feiner for the Murder of Herman C. Adams, Oct. 1855.

D A Mallory for the State J E Arnold, for defense

The Jury in the case of the State vs Johan Feiner, for the murder of Herman C Adams after being absent for nearly 24 hours came in and reiterated their conviction that they could not agree upon a verdict, and were discharged As the case is yet pending, we forbear comment for the present There was a rumor that the defendant would plead guilty, either to the indictment, or to the District Attorney would consent, to the commission of manslaughter in third degree which is defined in the Revised Statutes thus, Sec 14, Chapter 183

"The killing of another, in the heat of passion without a design to effect death by a dangerous weapon, in any case except such where the killing of another is hereinbefore declared to be justifiable or excusable shall be deemed manslaughter in the third degree

The third subdivision of Sec 28, 1bid provides its punishment, in the State Prison

"If convicted of manslaughter in the third degree for a term not more than four years, and not less than two years

The case of the State vs John Goodwin, to assault with intent to kill, was tried yesterday

Police Court, March 13.

Patrick King, for being drunk, fined $1,00

SENTENCED FOR A HOUSE OF REFUGE—Three boys named Peter Hand, John Herring and Edward Hill were arraigned by a Policeman, charged with stealing a stove and boiler of the value of $3 00 from Mrs Lottsman The boys are about 13 years of age and plead guilty to the charge, and were each sentenced to ten days imprisonment in the County Jail What benefit to the boys, or to the community will there be in ten days incarceration in a loathsome jail? We have been informed that the last Grand Jury would have strenuously urged the erection of a House of Refuge, but for the interference of an ex officio whose humanity seemed torpid at the time for his dread of a slight taxation to have overcome his better judgment The object of the Sentinel, and not only the Sentinel but the Judge of the Circuit Court the Police Justice the District Attorney the recent and present one and several previous Grand Juries, was not of political capital it was broad humanity itself and the necessity of such an institution has met with universal consent and in spite of unfounded voices to oppose on it will be erected the public will pay all in the end

A SIGHT FOR SUPERVISORS—Yesterday, had the Supervisors or that portion of them that oppose the erection of a House of Refuge have known they might have witnessed a sight peculiarly gratifying to them In three cells in the jail were three little boys two twelve years of age, the oldest but fourteen shut up for stealing a stove worth $3,00 And one of those little boys was the son of a man who sometime since died in jail of delirium tremens but a few feet from where his child now stands on tiptoe to look in misanthropic through a hole 6 by 4 inches Will shutting up that boy in such a place—in that unwholesome jail tend to prevent him from stealing or helping to steal another stove when he comes out Where was he to have learned honesty Was it from a drunken parent—drunk even to death Go and see those boys ye Supervisors, and if ye have human hearts and human sentiments, your consciences will tell you that they as well as upwards of a hundred others boys that have been arrested, need moral instruction, and which they have never had, more than they do punishment and where but in a House of Refuge can they get it? It would be a refuge for hundreds, if erected

ANOTHER CUSHMAN CONCERT—The Cushman Concert last night, at Young's Hall was well attended A large audience were amused and some instructed, by the points and witticisms and sarcastic allusions to Scottish Aristocracy We thought this point of the lecture was stretched too far and must have had effect contrary to the speaker's intention, in without the palaces of the rich and the costly articles of the fashionable, there would be one mechanic where there is now a thousand

Another lecture is given to night, with an entire change of songs, &c

THIS COMPANY offers unrivalled facilities for the insurance of Buildings and Personal Property against fire. The advantages offered are security beyond the reach of circumstances, as the real estate insured is by our bound for the assessment made to cover losses beyond the power of evasion. Every person insured is a member of the Company, and entitled to one vote. The cost of insurance does not exceed one-third as much as in Stock Companies, saying nothing of the increased security and the incompatible sense with which losses are settled. During the last five years, this Company have issued 2000 Policies, and made but three assessments, at a cost to the property insured, not exceeding two mills on the dollar.—Its business is principally confined to this State.

THE BEST FIRE-PROOF SAFE in the World, Depot No. 166 Water St., near Wall St., New York. STEAM FOUNDRY!

—OF—

TURTON & SERCOMB,

296, 298, 300, 302 and 304 West Water St.,

IS STILL IN FULL BLAST, WORKING DAY AND night to supply the daily increasing wants of the Ruler and other States.

In order the better to do this, the proprietors have erected a large brick Foundry in addition to their former premises. They have added to their stock of Tools a large Planing or Shaping Machine, three Lathes, and a Machine for making bolts, and are now putting in a Steam Engine of horse power to drive the whole, thereby adding to their former facilities for the successful carrying on of the Foundry, Machine, Engine and Blacksmithing business. They never were in a better position for doing business, and in any department.

In regard to the character of the work got up by this The Oldest Establishment in the State, the Proprietors refer to that in successful operation through the country as their best recommendation, as it can speak for itself. All they can say is, that they are both PRACTICAL MECHANICS, and know how work should be done as well as the next man.

They continue to manufacture FLOUR and SAW MILL GEARING, and STEAM ENGINES, on the most approved principle.

They have always on hand a large stock of BRASS WORKS, such as GEARS AND CYLINDER COCKS, OIL CUPS AND COCKS, AND STEAM WHISTLES. Also TURTON'S FILES, which they will sell as the lowest cash prices.

They are also Agents for RAMSEY'S PATENT STEAM GUAGES, which are well worth the attention of all those who use Steam Engines.

In conclusion, they invite a continued share of the patronage of their old friends, and solicit a call from all those in want of Saw or Flouring Mill Work, assuring them that no exertions will be spared to render the Old Eagle worthy of the reputation it has gained.

Their motto is, "Excelsior."
